

Privacy Framework for State Agencies

Building a sustainable privacy program foundation

Privacy frameworks include the basic structure and concepts needed to build an effective privacy program. They include the components that should be included in a privacy program, but do not dictate how the goal of each component is achieved.

This Privacy Framework for State Agencies was developed based on the NIST Privacy Framework¹ and other privacy program best practices. It is intended to be a flexible and scalable starting place for agencies of varying size handling personal information of varying sensitivity. Agencies should use this framework to build out more agency-specific resources that form a privacy program skeleton to be expanded and adapted over time. Not all agencies will have all components in place but using this framework can help identify and prioritize risks and opportunities.

ⁱ The NIST Privacy Framework was published by the National Institute of Standards and Technology in 2020. It is intended to provide a common approach to help organizations take privacy into account during system design, communicate about privacy, and encourage cross-organizational collaboration. The NIST Privacy Framework includes five functions, which are further broken into categories and subcategories. The citations in this document refer to the abbreviations for functions and categories. For example, awareness and training is a category within the Govern function and the citation is GO.AT-P. The “P” within each citation stands for privacy and is used to distinguish from citations to the NIST Cybersecurity Framework.
